Turkey

IOM continues to support the Turkish Coast Guard (TCG) by distributing food, water, and non-food items (NFIs) to migrants and refugees rescued at sea. During the reporting period, in Dikili (one of the points in İzmir for irregular migrants and refugees crossing to Lesvos, Greece) IOM assisted the TCG by providing food, water, NFI (including clothing and shoes) and hygiene kits for 316 rescued migrants and refugees. The majority of those rescued at sea in Dikili came from Afghanistan.

In Çeşme (one of the points in İzmir for irregular migrants and refugees crossing to Chios, Greece), the IOM field team provided food, water and NFIs to 90 rescued migrants and refugees, the majority of whom were from Syria. Furthermore, in Küçükkuyu (a point in Çanakkale province where irregular migrants and refugees cross to Mytilene, Greece), IOM distributed food, water, and NFIs to 50 rescued migrants and refugees. The IOM team in Çeşme has also hired an Arabic interpreter to assist the team’s work while supporting the TCG staff.

IOM social workers in Dikili and Çeşme continue to identify and refer vulnerable migrants and refugees rescued at sea to relevant authorities and institutions. During the reporting period, IOM identified 29 vulnerable migrants and refugees who were rescued at sea and referred them to the non-governmental organizational ASAM (Association for Solidarity with Asylum Seekers and Migrants) who then follow up their situation while they are in Turkey.

To meet the request by TCG and with funding from the European Commission – Humanitarian Aid & Civil Protection (ECHO), IOM procured 1,000 food kits and 2,000 bottled water to be distributed to rescued migrants and refugees. Moreover, IOM, in cooperation with a local NGO, purchased 3,000 packages of baby diapers and 1,000 food kits that are being distributed to vulnerable migrant and refugee families in and around İzmir.

To help improve the standard of living at removal centres, where rescued migrants and refugees, as well as readmitted non-Syrians from the EU, are hosted while their application for international protection is being processed, and as requested by the Directorate General of Migration Management (DGMM), IOM provided 3,000 razor blades, 5 electrical shavers, 50 plastic balls, 20 nursing bottles, and 750 pairs of slippers to beneficiaries at the Pehlivanköy removal centre. Additionally, IOM procured 1,000 soap bars, 3,000 bottles of shampoo, 500 razor blades, 6 electrical shavers, 150 pairs of socks, 900 pairs of slippers, and 1,700 pîjama sets for the removal centres in İzmir Harmandalı and Işikkent.

Greece

In response to the current needs, IOM ensures permanent presence through the deployment of ten multidisciplinary and specialised teams in ten different sites all over Greece. The teams are composed of trained psychologists, social workers, cultural mediators/interpreters, legal counsellors, as well as logistics officers and camp management experts in order to support the daily management of sites. The teams’ support services include psychosocial and legal counselling, identification and referral of vulnerable migrants and refugees, as well as information and awareness raising on rights and registration, and risks of smuggling and trafficking.

During the reporting period, IOM conducted various shelter activities in camps in Northern and Central Greece. In Serres, IOM built concrete wash basins as well as manufactured and installed clothing hangars. The repair of pipelining in this camp is scheduled for next week. In Kavala, IOM installed ventilation funds, electrical repellents and air extractors.

IOM will be supporting the government’s new education plan for migrant and refugee children. The plan aims to facilitate their integration into the public education system. IOM’s assistance will include transportation and escort to/from public schools in nearby municipalities for children residing in sites on the mainland as well as the provision of school kits during the pilot phase of the plan.

IOM continues to provide AVR services and extensive information campaigns at open facilities in the mainland and islands where the majority of the stranded migrants are accommodated. Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia

IOM has two mobile teams in the Tabnovce and Gevgelija reception centres. Each team consists of three staff members (a translator, social worker and medical officer) who help to address the needs of vulnerable populations among the remaining group of migrants and refugees. The mobile teams are actively monitoring and screening the remaining migrants and refugees to help ensure that those with vulnerabilities, especially victims of trafficking, are identified and referred to the appropriate services.

IOM also helps to support the Border Police units in facilitating communication with migrants/refugees by establishing mobile teams of interpreters from Arabic to Macedonian.

The research, which served as a basis for the development of the toolkit, presents an overview of the national context in labour integration by compiling main policies and existing practices in Slovenia as well as planned measures of main governmental stakeholders which are underway due to the increase in the number of people receiving international protection in the country. The publication of both the report and toolkit was made possible with the support of the Council of Europe Development Bank – Migrant and Refugee Fund.

Vulnerable cases also include unaccompanied children, migrants in need of health and/or psychosocial support, women victims of trafficking, and the elderly. Furthermore, two IOM teams work in Sicily and Apulia with the specific aims of enhancing detection and identification of victims of trafficking and referring them for services to relevant authorities.
